RUBBER MATTING

Black rubber matting, suitable to be laid over a group of cables, where physical protection of the cables is less critical than pedestrian convenience. For example, where cables run across soft ground, this generally provides a more satisfactory solution than the extruded cable protectors. It also has its uses on hard floors where it is not possible to achieve a neat bunching of cables across the walkway area.

The matting is also useful for workshop benches and anti-slip floor surfaces.

Available in two different surface profiles, fine fluted and flat fluted, both 3mm thick overall.

Supplied in cut lengths in multiples of 1 metre. Full roll length 10 metres for both fine and flat fluted.

39-371 RUBBER MATTING Fine fluted, 915mm wide

39-387 RUBBER MATTING Flat fluted, 1000mm wide

39-388 RUBBER MATTING Flat fluted, 1220mm wide
