

58-202 USB Foot Pedal

VEC Infinity is a HUI (Human User Interface Device) that installs in Windows but without an application that actively supports such the hardware will not 'automatically' work with software on a PC. There is no driver software to make it work with any application.

However there are freeware utilities that allow the pedal to be configured to replicate key commands and mouse actions that allow software functionality to be triggered by the footpedal.

For example:-

<http://wareseeker.com/free-pedalware-foot-pedal-software-1.00>

<http://www.nch.com.au/footpedal/index.html>

Note that Canford has no association with software providers listed above and as such will not be held responsible for any loss or damage that may result from the use of the foot pedal software that they offer. Copyright belongs to author/vendor and all technical/legal issues should be directed to such.

08/09/09

